ESD 112 employment and the engagement of ESD 112 volunteers or individuals providing contracted services will be conditional upon the receipt of a satisfactory report from Washington State Patrol and, where required, a satisfactory report from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

All prospective ESD employees, volunteers and contractors are required to complete a records check through the Washington State Patrol criminal identification system prior to their first day as an employee, volunteer or contractor, or if they did not complete a records check when they were employed, prior to their first date in a new position. All prospective employees, certificated and classified, who have worked in a school district, are also required to complete and sign a Washington state Sexual Misconduct Disclosure Release Form. This disclosure form allows previous district employers to disclose any investigative materials or findings related to sexual misconduct. Failure to sign the form will render a prospective employees ineligible for ESD 112 employment per RCW 28A-400.

If an employee, contractor or volunteer has undergone a records check through the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the last two (2) years, ESD 112 may waive the requirement for the record check.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation records check shall include a fingerprint check using a complete Washington state criminal identification fingerprint card.
